

Music in the Stacks

Penn Flutes

Library Choir

December 8, 2023

Penn Museum -
Museum Library, Level 1
3260 South St, Philadelphia

Program

Pat a Pan (from A Renaissance Noel)

I Have a Little Dreidle variations

In the Bleak Midwinter

Old Toy Trains

Arab Danse (from Nutcracker)

Silent Night

We Need a Little Christmas

About the Ensemble

One of the largest active flute choirs in the United States, Penn Flutes is open to flutists of virtually all levels: undergraduate, graduate, faculty, staff and community members are welcome. Performances take place both on campus and around the region alongside our community partners. Repertoire spans a variety of genres from the Renaissance through Modern eras, and select members may be offered the opportunity to perform on piccolo as well as bass and alto flutes.

Penn Flutes Library Choir

Steven Chen
Priya Deliwala
Shambhabi Gautam
Sowon Han
Alina Markutsya
Nick Sathi
Hayden Siesel
Megan Wu
Ling Xu

About Music in the Stacks

A collaboration between the Albrecht Music Library and the Department of Music, "Music in the Stacks" brings Penn musicians into library spaces for drop-in, public performances throughout the semester.